FIND YOUR PURPOSE

God has graciously equipped believers in the church to lead the church. He saves us, then He sanctifies us, filling us with the Holy Spirit. He also gives us spiritual gifts, which work in harmony with our natural God-given talents. God prepares saints to become leaders. One of the best examples of this is Jesus and Peter. When Jesus called Peter, his name was Simon. But Jesus changed his name to Peter. The Greek is Petros, which means “stone.” His Aramaic name “Cephas” also means “rock.” But why did Jesus call him that? Was Peter like a stone?

Far from it. Peter was emotional and unstable. He often talked without thinking. Many times he made declarations or asked questions which he would later regret. The proudest statement he made was that he would never deny Jesus. And yet, right after that he denied Jesus three times. But Jesus did not call Peter “Rock” because he was one. He called Peter “Rock” because that is what he was going to be become. Jesus looked into the future at what Peter would become, knowing that he would be a rock. And yet Peter did not become a stable pillar of the church overnight or by magic. Jesus transformed Peter. When a sculpture looks at a stone, he does not see the ugly and dirty unshaped rock before his eyes. Instead he can already picture the finished statue. It is up to him to chisel away the excess stone and cause that image to become a reality. This is what happened with Peter. Jesus called Him. Jesus equipped him. Jesus sanctified Him. Jesus changed Him. And Peter became a leader in the church.

Churches are far more healthy and reproduce far more effectively when there is a team of leaders working together equipping the saints and then these saints in turn get involved. Every single believer is to be involved in using his or her own gifts for building God’s kingdom. There is more than enough work to go around. God has a job for you (Ephesians 2:10). It is not the responsibility of the pastor or leader to do all the work. It is not the responsibility of the pastor or leader to share the gospel with your friends and family. The saint’s role is not simply passively attending a church service and listening to a sermon. A healthy church consists of volunteers who are prepared by their leaders to do the job God has called them to do. That means sharing responsibility, sharing vision, and sharing the load.

Whatever you find to do, do it with all your heart. Do not consider it is below you. Eventually as you serve, your special gifting will become apparent and God will grant you the desires of your heart!
